SirsiDynix Unicorn ASP Selected by Spring Hill CollegeHosted integrated library management system benefits academic library

HUNTSVILLE, Ala., May 16, 2006 – SirsiDynix, the global leader in strategic technology solutions for libraries, announced today that Spring Hill College in Mobile, Ala., recently selected and installed the SirsiDynix hosted Unicorn® Library Management System. With the hosted, or ASP (Application Service Provider) version of Unicorn, the implementation and management of the system are hosted by SirsiDynix-certified system administrators.

In addition to selecting a new strategic technology solution, Spring Hill College also recently opened a new library building, the Marnie and John Burke Memorial Library, in time for the 175th anniversary of the college.

“The SirsiDynix Unicorn ASP solution is a great fit for our library,” said Bruce Whitham, Spring Hill College director of library services. “We have all of the power and functionality of the Unicorn system without having to dedicate valuable time and staff to administer it. SirsiDynix takes care of our system, and we’re freed up to focus on serving our users in new and improved ways.”

Bill McClendon, SirsiDynix product manager of hosted systems, said, “As the global leader in strategic technology solutions for libraries, SirsiDynix assists libraries in improving their internal productivity and enhancing their capabilities for serving people. One of the ways we’re helping libraries do this is through our ASP solutions. With SirsiDynix ASP solutions, libraries can realize the benefits of our technologically advanced products without the time- and skill-intensive tasks of managing their software, hardware and databases.

“Moreover, libraries of all types, including two- and four-year academic customers, are increasingly opting for SirsiDynix hosted services. Our integrated library system ASP sales increased 30 percent in 2005, and we are continuing to see significant growth this year, with wins in the United States, Canada, Europe and Asia-Pacific,” added McClendon.
