November 21, 2023, LEHI, UT—For the tenth year in a row, the Salt Lake Tribune has recognized SirsiDynix, a leading provider of library technology solutions, as a winner of the Wasatch Front Top Workplaces 2023 Award.

The award, announced annually, is based on an anonymous all-staff survey administered by employee engagement technology partner Energage LLC. Designed to facilitate employees' candid feedback on workplace culture, the survey measures 15 drivers of organizational success, including interdepartmental cooperation, transparent leadership, and opportunities for professional development and employee engagement.

In keeping with previous years' surveys, SirsiDynix employees were eager to respond, with 87% opting to participate. In addition to landing SirsiDynix a top spot on the Salt Lake Tribune list, employees' unanimous enthusiastic feedback also earned the company culture excellence awards in four categories: innovation, work-life flexibility, employee well-being, and professional development.

As detailed on the company's website, SirsiDynix offers a comprehensive benefits package consisting of flexible PTO, paid family-related leave, access to a company-matched 401k, and more. With an average employee tenure of 13 years, SirsiDynix also emphasizes the power of mission-driven work, supporting employees in making meaningful contributions to libraries—and communities—across the globe.
